URBANDALE GOES PLATINUM

"Urbandale Goes Platinum" was chosen as the theme by the 1980-81 Echo staff for two reasons. First, for an album to receive the platinum award, it must sell at least 1,000,000 copies; indicating that it must be an outstanding work. Similarly, we included in this book the outstanding events of the UHS year.

Secondly, any album selling this large number of copies must be entertaining. The staff has made sure that you will be entertained by this "beginning-of-a-new-decade" synopsis.

According to "Rolling Stone Magazine," the top five rock albums of 1980 were Pink Floyd's "The Wall," Michael Jackson's "Off the Wall," Billy Joel's "Glass Houses," Bob Seger and The Silver Bullet Band's "Against the Wind," and Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers' "Damn the Torpedoes."

Music was part of every walking moment. In their free time, many students carried with them portable stereos and radios in order to keep up with the beat. Often the Commons rang with pop music from systems supplied by students who had a free period.

Rock music remained the unquestionable favorite with country and jazz following behind. Although a punk rock craze swept the nation, it didn't make a big dent at UHS. Popular punk rock groups included Devo, The Clash, and The Police.

The three top stations with UHS students were KGGO, Q102, and KMGK. KGGO played a variety of rock straight from albums, Q102 kept Des Moines aware of the top forty, and KMGK laid out a little rock along with the fading disco.

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

LOOK WHAT YOU'VE DONE TO ME

Classic, country look "in"

Triggered by the movie "Urban Cowboy" starring John Travolta and the popular tv series "Dallas" which kept the entire nation guessing "Who shot JR?" over the summer, Western wear increased in popularity. Cowboy boots and hats were abundant at UHS. This style was not a cheap one; most hats ranged from $15 to $50.00 while boots started at $40.00 a pair.

The "preppy" look was part of the fashion scene. Styles included oxford shirts, boat shoes, and lozod sweaters with the famous alligator emblem. Hair for the girls was free and easy or fancy braids, and the boys went to shorter-cut hair.

More students had cars this year than in the past, and many experienced difficulty locating parking places in the school lots. Supervised study hall was given to those who parked illegally.

1 Seniors John Scott and Phyllis Longdon show off the comfortable "preppy" look with oxford shirt and alligator sweater.
2 Sports cars are always in. Senior Cindy Manusos lounges against her TR-7.
3 Boots with a cowboy flavor hit the fashion scene.
4 Suits with slightly gathered narrow skirt and blazar jacket give a sophisticated look.
5 Heart, Styx, Bruce Springstein, Blondie — all top the charts.

6 Low heeled easy shoes: sport-o's, suede saddles, and boat shoes go great with narrower rolled-cuff jeans.

7 "The Empire Strikes Back," the second of "The Star Wars"' science fiction films, is a summer favorite. Yoda teaches Luc Skywalker to use the Force.

8 Always popular pants, pleated at the waist and tightly narrowed at the ankle, are shorter this year.

9 Lexie Shinn wears the "preppy" button-down collar and shetland sweater.

10 Electonic games continue to prevail.

11 Part of the country look, Shawna Moore relaxes in bibbed overalls.

Marching Jays entertain for football fans

With approximately 120 members under the direction of Mr. Larry Hintz, the UHS 1980-81 Marching Jays performed in six home half-time shows. Auxillary units of 12 flag girls, 12 pom-pon girls, and a four-man color guard enhanced the group. Senior Sandy Thompson returned as drum majorette accompanied by senior Robert Hansen as drum major. Parade programs included the 4th of July, Homecoming, and a Pella Tulip Festival parade in the late spring.

The band started off "on the right foot" with the return of assistant band director Mrs. Deanna Bauers. Previously Mrs. Bauers had assisted at UHS in 1978-79.

The weather, though cool at times, cooperated for both early morning practices and performances. Highlights of the season included the Homecoming show in early October. Pre-game started with "Off the Line" followed by the traditional "Battle Hymn," "Star Spangled Banner," and "Confidence." Circumstances did not allow the formation of the lighted "U". "Another Opening, Another Show" opened up half-time. The flags then performed to "Star" by Earth, Wind, and Fire; followed by the poms' routine "Knock on Wood." With a routine to "Roman Opener," the band concluded the program.

November 1st, the Jays marched at William Penn College in Oskaloosa for a football game.

"Magic" spell raises spirit for Homecoming Week

Conjuring up school spirit, 1980's homecoming theme "Magic" inspired a week of animated activity. The week's festivities started Tuesday, September 30, with Hat Day and the announcement of the candidates for King and Queen. The halls were filled with decorated lockers.

Wednesday was Button Day, and the student body elected the homecoming King and Queen. The traditional Powder Puff games were held, with rank showing dominance. The seniors took the juniors, 7-0, as Julie Richards returned a 70-yard punt. The sophs stomped the freshmen, 21-0. Following the game, a giant bonfire fired up the crowd for the tug-of-war contest between the classes. The sophs showed their strength by winning the contest. Brian Fink and Laura Tremmel were crowned King and Queen on Thursday. Also Wild West Day, almost everyone found a pair of boots and a cowboy hat to wear.

Spirit truck construction was held Thursday night from 3:00-10:00. A first this year — clubs and organizations decorated spirit trucks with "magical" themes.

With signs, toilet paper and soap in hand; many UHS students set out to decorate the football players' houses from midnight until 6 a.m. Friday morning. One in particular will stand out in the minds of many, John Newberg's "palace" as the girls filled his yard with "For Sale" signs.

After completing their masterpieces, the senior women headed for Aurora Ave. to paint the street in front of the school.

Friday, Blue and White Day; the annual Lions' pancake dinner filled the Commons. Led by the new spirit car, the parade started at 2 p.m.

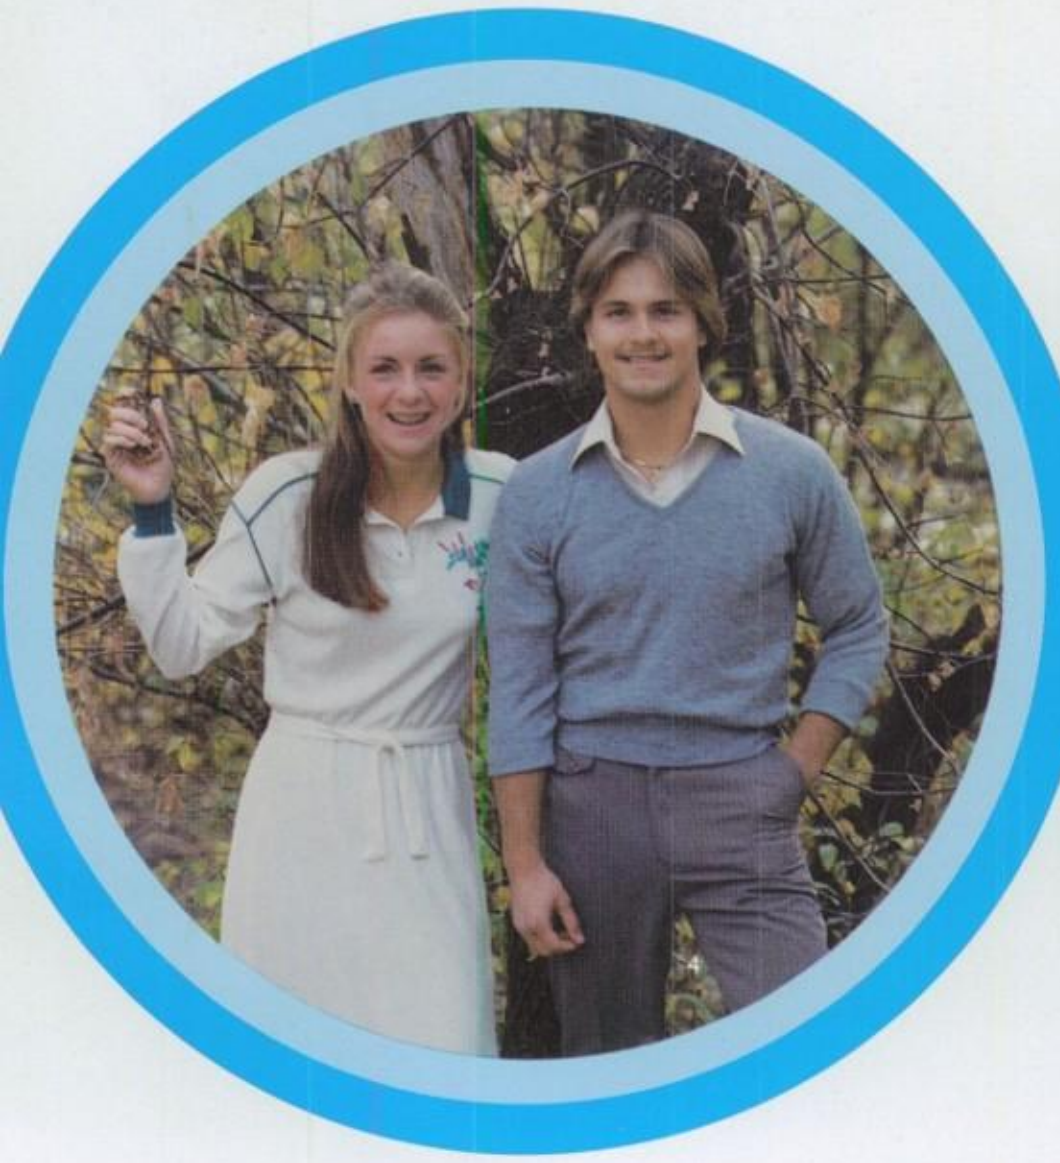
The attending couples included Shari Bergamo and Brad Barghols, LeAnn DelPrado and Joe Palmer, Joni Marvin and Rick Bothwell, Margaret Kuble and Troy Richards.

Crowned as the 1980 Homecoming King and Queen, Brian Fink and Laura Tremmel reigned over the court.



NO NIGHT SO LONG

Homecoming overtime whammy as Jays sneak by, 3-0

Despite overconfidence and a fired up opposing team, the J-Hawks managed to defeat the South Tama Trojans, 3-0, in overtime of the 1980 Homecoming game.

Light showers before the game caused the field to be mildly slippery, giving the outcome of the game a greater degree of luck.

The J-Hawk defense, which carried most of the game, stopped the Trojans in their tracks as they attempted a touchdown in overtime. During the Trojans' last desperate move, a field goal attempt; junior Rudy Myers sailed across the line and knocked the ball out of the air.

Minutes into overtime, kicker Walt Chapman, senior, booted the pigskin through the uprights for 3. The final score — J-Hawks 3, Trojans 0.

Paper rabbits and top hats dangling from the ceiling plus cut out white-gloved magicians' hands with couples' names written on them along the wall cast an enchanting spell over the Commons for the Homecoming Dance Saturday night October 4. Held from 9-12, admission was $6 per couple. Music by Van Elson charmed the crowd.

Drama, music, art join for "The Music Man"

Seventy-six trombones led the big parade when "The Music Man" came to Urbandale. Combining the efforts of the drama, music, and art departments; the cast of 43 singers was backed by 17 pit band members in the first musical presented at UHS since 1976.

"Musicals are popular here," said instructor Robert Prigge, director of "The Music Man." In five performances — two for grade schools and three for the public on November 6, 7, and 8 — over one thousand people saw the play. "It went well considering how difficult it was to do in the Commons with all of the scene changes the play required," commented Prigge.

Set in River City, Iowa, at the turn of the century; Professor Harold Hill (Tony Adelman), a crooked traveling salesman, attempted to sell the citizens of the town marching band instruments and uniforms for their children. Marian the librarian (Kim Thompson) saw through Hill's fast talking but fell in love with his charm. Community members lead by Mayor Shinn (Dale Sherrill) and his wife Eulalie MacKecknie Shinn (Lexie Shine) were bamboozled by Hill as the cast enthusiastically sang and danced through 24 musical numbers.

7 Martha Strunce and Bret Wortman compete in duet acting from "Butterflies are Free."
8 Duet actors Kelly Mayo and Lisa Swaney perform from "Voice of a Turtle."

Drake, Vierling named outstanding at State for duet program from "Plaza Suite"

For the third year, the UHS speech and drama department brought back honors from winter contests. "Competition is rough as students meet other contestants from across the state," noted speech coach Rhonda Harwood.

This year a number of freshmen became involved in competition. Working on a one act play "Great Smokies" were Tim Wisgerhof, Peggy Wertz, Tina Koppen, Mark Richards, Beth Smith, Brenda Drake, Steve Willem, Terri Swank, and Joe Kelly. In the freshman readers' theater production "Impromptu," were Tim Wisgerhof, Andrea Baker, Marsha Traeger, and Mark Richards.

A rendition of the Agatha Christie mystery "The Patient" was given by sophomores through seniors Teri Johnson, Jana Feitler, Dean Jones, Bret Wortman, Denise Drake, Dan Dabrieo, Martha Strunce, and Sara Rawland. "The Thirteenth Skull," a readers' theater, was preformed by Laura Kritchman, Dale Sherrill, Dean Jones, Robin Burke, Gwen Pelly, and Lexie Shine.

Performing short portions of plays without props or makeup, duet actors relied on facial expression and body movement to assist the script. Three groups competing at UHS included Martha Strunce and Bret Wortman in "Butterflies are Free," Kelly Mayo and Lisa Swaney in "Voice of a Turtle," and Denise Drake and Tony Vierling in "Plaza Suite."

Receiving top ratings at Districts, two duet groups advanced to State: Swaney and Mayo, and Drake and Vierling. At State Drake and Vierling were selected Outstanding Performers which allowed them to participate in the All-State Speech Festival February 21.

Angelic mistakes make comedic confusion

A foggy dark scene. At the gate stood a sophisticated woman in white. Could this really be heaven? It sure was and Joseph Pendelton (Dale Sherrill) wasn't ready to enter the pearly gates yet. This was the setting for the UHS theater's spring production of "Heaven Can Wait" running Wednesday, April 22-Friday, April 24 in the Commons.

As Ms. Jordan (Denise Drake) discovered that messenger 7013 (Tony Vierling) had made a mistake by taking Joe's soul too soon, she decided to take Joe back to earth in the place of someone else's body. She chose the body of millionaire Jonathan Farnsworth. But her choice was not a wise one because Farnsworth's wife Julia (Martha Strunce) and private secretary Tony Abbott (Tim Wisgerhof) were plotting to murder him.

To complicate matters even more, Joe met up with his old fight manager Max Levene (Tony Adelman) who convinced him to become a prize fighter as he was in his former life. While training, Joe met an acquaintance of Farnsworth's Betty Logan (Kerry Hall) and fell in LOVE. In a heart warming final scene, Joe finally became champ and was left to finish out the rest of his life with Betty.

UHS used the script from the original Broadway play rather than the movie version of a few years ago. Director Ronda Harwood noted, "The play used a lot of new UHS talent, and I was pleased with their progress." Student teacher Mr. Bill Oliver also helped with the production.

CAN'T WE TRY

Urbandale takes pride in their schools

A new superintendent headed the Urbandale Community School District, Mr. Cesare Caldarelli. "My goals for my first year are primarily intangibles," said Caldarelli. "Self-esteem, pride in our schools, and unity from grades kindegarten through twelve. From these we can build tangibles."

"If a student feels good about himself and is proud of his school, vandalism will become less of a problem. The money spent for the repair of vandalism could then be spent on new items for the school," Caldarelli commented. "Building an auditorium is also one of my concerns," he added.

Former junior high principal Mr. John Cox took the new position of Assistant Superintendent and Mr. Phil Murrell became the first art consultant in the Urbandale system for grades K-6.

In preparation for an inspection by the North Central Association (NCA) in February of 1982, UHS spent 1981 conducting a self-evaluation program. The steering committee included Pat Stohlmann (chairperson), Tom Beran, Chuck Gesiriech, Jim Kelsey, Harvey Kimble, and Mary Sherer. The NCA is an organization that evaluates high schools with standards that have been set up as belonging to good high schools.

Business skills needed

"Enrollment has increased in all areas of the Business Education Department," said Mrs. Kay Griffin, Business Education Department Chairperson. Students were preparing for the future through acquiring important skills.

A new Apple II Computer was added to the department. It was used by students as a homework aid for individual projects in complex arithmetic problems, typing, and improving typing speed and accuracy. Miss Sue Harvey's Distributive Education classes used it for business games and market simulations and to find the affects of marketing.

The memory typewriter was leased, again, through Heartland. It was held longer to give the school a better opportunity to experiment with it. The typing pool, advanced typing students, was busy putting together programs for all activities and helping with the upcoming NCA evaluations. New typewriters and two transcribing units helped the typing pool in the task.

Senior Sandy Thompson represented Urbandale at the Executive Secretary Association Banquet where an outstanding business student was selected from the district.

Film festival finale

On May 5, the Mass Media classes presented their fifth annual Film and Sound Festival before an audience of about 550. The flicks comprising the show were filmed, edited, and produced by the students in the first and second semester media classes. A panel of judges rated the films in an "acadamy award" style. The following awards were given: Best Comedy-"Batman and Robin," Best Live Action-"Good Times Roll," Best Animation-"The Predator," Best Theme-"In the 80's," Best Song Interpretation-"Hero Patrol," Best Editing-"Can You Take Me Back," Best Director-"The Visit," Most Creative-"The Hunt," Best Montage-"Tribute to Sports," and Most Original-"Man's Fragile World. " Trophies were presented to all the winners and the sponsors. "The kids worked hard and did an excellent job to put together the program," said Mass Media instructor Dolly Lein.

First Semester Language Arts Standout senior Lisa Swaney noted that she feels UHS, "needs more advanced courses for seniors and more emphasis on formal writing." She felt three years of English should be required.

Janet Ganoe, second semester Standout, especially liked two upper level literature courses --- Myths and Legends and World Literature. Ganoe received the end of-the-year department award.

Statistics, new class

Senior Mike Schroeder was selected senior Math Standout first semester and the receiver of the end-of-the-year math department award. "I like figuring out problems," Mike said. He had taken all the math courses offered and finished an independent project in calculus.

Probability and Statistics was the new course offered second semester to help students learn to conduct polls and surveys and to apply the information gathered. Mr. Rich Dixon taught the class.

Department head Dixon left UHS after teaching math here for eight years. He also had coached girls basketball for seven years, three years as the freshman coach and four assisting the varsity squad. Always with a quote for all occasions, Dixon commented, "I only know about myself, as yet, to know I don't know enough. Nor can I say I know what's missing --- voids are voids only seen completely after we've had victories over them" (Rod McKuen) Dixon continued, "It will be hard to leave, I've enjoyed the experience here at UHS."

"I want to go into ostepathic medicine, and study athletic and running-related injuries, how to cure and cope with them. I also want to find out about causes and prevention." Keller received the science department award at Commencement.

Second semester Science Standout Alan Carter especially liked the study of light and energy and found many of the theories discovered in physics really interesting. "Both Iva and Alan really understand the principles of science," remarked instructor Mr. Charles Gersiriech.

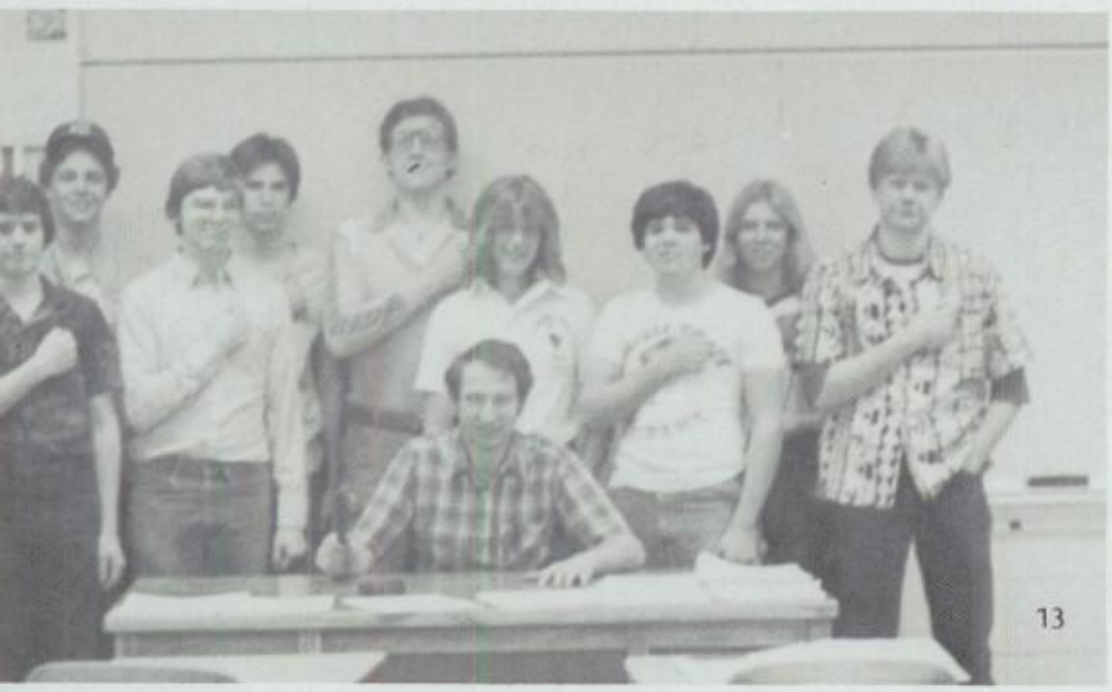
Sheldahl receives top national award

Psychology and Social Problems teacher Len Sheldahl was named National Psychology Teacher of the Year 1981. Her classes covered stages of psychological development, mental illness, child abuse, rape, and suicide. Sheldahl took several students to the 1981 Hawkeye Science Fair, an all state competition that displayed experiments of Iowa students who showed superior qualification.

In an election fall, the government classes were active with guests speakers and a mock election November 3. The school elected Ronald Regan by a narrow margin as the next president. Republican Regan took 35% of the vote, Independent John Anderson 34%, and Democrate Jimmy Carter 30%. Second semester government classes helped revamp the format for class officer and student senate elections.

A new government class was offered second semester, Comparative Political Systems, which contrasted viewpoints between the U.S. and the Soviet Union. One guest speaker brought the entire school together in combined interest for an all-school assembly, May 8 --- exhostage Iowa Kathryn Koob who had been held 444 days by student militants in Iran.



Sixteen UHS students representing Yugoslavia and the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) attended the Seventeenth Annual Iowa High School model United Nations at the University of Northern Iowa in Cedar Falls. Senior Scott Johnson was among eight to deliver a policy speech at the opening ceremonies. His speech stressed non-alignment and non-interference in the affairs of others.

Foreign travel, field trips

Over the summer of '80, Spanish instructors Ginny Strong and Sherry Dogruyusever led a group of UHS students to Mexico for two weeks of touring and fun. A near bus mishap was part of the excitement of getting back home.

Seventy Spanish students went to see the Spanish ballet, "Espara Curtano," performed by university students and gypsies from various parts of Spain. The Spanish gypsy culture and Spanish Flamenco dancing were featured.

Upper level Spanish students attended the play "Los Titeres de Cacheporra" March 20 at Roosevelt High School. The play was presented by the National Theater of the Performing Arts. The majority of the play was in English but scenes were redone in Spanish to test comprehension.

In celebration of Pan American Week, third and fourth year Spanish students performed a Mexican dance, "Los Viejetos" at Drake.

For three weeks last summer, four UHS German students and teacher Sherry Winters toured Germany and surrounding countries. "Germany is a beautiful land," noted senior German Standout Liz Hanian, "but being there has really made me appreciate America."

Over spring break, 16 UHS students traveled to Germany. The group was joined by Hoover students and parents for 15 days aboard. Arriving in Frankfurt, they visited the Rhine River, Cologne, moved into Communist East Germany visiting East and West Berlin, and saw Southern Germany. Four days were spent living with a German Family for many students. Two German teenagers served as tour pals of the group.

As part of a "German in America" unit, German I and IV classes, 80 students, toured the Amana colonies and the Amish settlement of Kalona, September 26. In the Amanas, their guide spoke fluent German and noted a revival in the use of German.

Home Arts looks ahead; Industrial Arts challenges

Second semester Home Arts department Standout Denise Drake notes, "I think that either Adult and Family or Single Survival should be required for seniors. It really makes you think ahead." Joni Marvin was first semester Standout and also received the end-of-the-year department award.

In his high school career, senior Troy Parsons took every course offered in the Industrial Arts department: Mechanical Drawing I and II; Architectural Drawing I and II; Electricity/Electronics I, II, and III; General Materials; Building Construction; General Metals; Auto Mechanics I and II; Advanced Woodworking; and an independent project. He contributed some of his work to UHS. In the weight room are some benches and a squat rack of Parsons' construction.

"Many people think of an industrial arts class as an easy class," explained Troy. "There is a lot of bookwork. It's not an easy credit. A lot of people aren't serious when they sign up."

Second semester Industrial Arts Standout Jack Gowan commented, "I like the woods classes best, mainly because my interests lie in this particular area." Gowan planned to major in the building trades program at DMACC. Senior Roger Fouche received the end-of-the-year department award.

RUNIN' ON EMPTY

Swimmers ham-it-up finale; gas crunch in Drivers Ed.

Senior Kathy Hillyard, Senior Standout from the P.E. department, liked the variety of activities avialable to students. Kathy had been involved in sports competitively and through intramurals since seventh grade. Last year she was a Cadet Teacher in P.E. at Rolling Green, Blackhurst, and the junior high. "Kathy is enthusiastic and gives 100% no matter what activity she is in," said instructor Cheri Juelsgaard.

Seventh hour every day P.E. Standout Steve Smith spent playing volleyball or duck pin basketball, a combination of soccer and basketball, in the gym. I think it's more important to have fun than to be obsessed with winning," he commented.

Fuel saving cars continued to hold front running position in Driver Education classes. Instructor Lynn Greiner was assisted by Rich Bess and Bill Shutters who drove with students before and after school. In addition to two semesters offered during the year, a six-week summer course was available.

1 Senior Joe Palmer takes extra precaution before his dive during a free swim day.
2 During the dancing unit, sophomores Jennie Hoobin and Dave Brush move around the fllor.
3 Gym classes begin their mile-long run.
4 Mr. Gary DouBrava-Physical Education
5 Mr. Denny Frerichs-Physical Education
6 Mrs. Cheri Juelsgaard-Physical Education
7 Mr. Lynn Greiner-Driver Education
8 Instructor Greiner and student driver Barb Fortune return from a practice drive.
9 Sophomores Joe Strunce and Jace Corlis are ready for their 20 minute session.

Fine Arts week success; five take art awards

A first-FINE ARTS WEEK-was held February 2-6. The Music, Art, Drama, and Mass Media departments combined for various presentations. To promote appreciation for and participation in the fine arts, a center was established in the high school library featuring displays and performances from all buildings and grade levels. Performances and displays were also taken to various elementary schools, the junior high, and public locations. Numerous guests artists were featured through the week.

Five students from Urbandale High School took awards at the CIC Art Festival at Grinnell, on April 22. Junior Scott Hayek won a first place award in jewelry and senior KarenCoe took a third in the same category. Sophomore Terri Zimmerman received a third in drawing. Jeff Dunkerson, senior, placed fourth in the pottery division and freshman Randy Young received an honorable mention. "Over all, I think we did really well!" said Paul Leverenz, art teacher.

Jukka Partanen (pronounced Yu-ka) was this year's Youth For Understanding exchange student. Jukka was from VanTaa, Finland. He lived with the Dabrieo family here in Urbandale. As a senior he took U.S. history, government, German and Spanish. In Finland last year he took math, Finnish history, Finnish government, Swedish, English, German, religion, art, chemistry, and physics.

"I enjoy music, TV, and reading," said Jukka. "I also enjoy going to discos, they are popular in Finland too." He planned to attend the university when he returned home and study languages. Jukka's ultimate goal is to be an interpreter.

Senior Tami Gronewold went to Italy on the American Field Service exchange program (AFS) last summer. Two weeks in New York City were devoted to a crash course in Italian. She lived with a family of seven at the base of a mountain in a suburb of Naples. They spent time touring Rome and Pompeii. Since the family owned a sailboat, they often went to the Mediterranean Sea. Tami commented, "Now everyday I think about the things that are different in Italy or remember something funny we did. I would like to visit them again soon, I wish the whole family could come to Iowa and see how I live."

This year two of UHS's '80 graduates were AFS students in Europe. Carole Bowlin spent the year in Denmark while Carla VanEnter was in Holland.

VanSolen gets scholarship

Students who were interested in helping other students were offered the opportunity to earn up to two semester credits through the Cadet Teacher program. Sponsor Mrs. Kay Griffin advised the group of 21 students. Some Cadet Teachers tutored other students at the high school while others helped out at the junior high and elementary schools.

At Christmas the group combined with DECA to help a needy family with food, toys, and clothing. During the year, three dances were held to raise money for a Student/teacher Banquet and for a scholarship to a graduating senior.

The Annual Banquet was held April 30 at Christopher's. Both teachers and students attended the event in appreciation of work and effort on both parts. Senior Robert Hansen extended many thanks to all the teachers who ranged from kindergarten to senior high. At graduation a $150 scholarship was awarded to Lori VanSolen who planned to go into education.

Super organization - library

No longer was audio visual equipment and trucks of books hefted downstairs, February 3 the new UHS elevator, its upper door located in the library, provided its first ride to sophomore Jim Wertz and special assistance to the librarians as they transported equipment and books throughout the building.

Head librarian Mrs. Marge Wegner was doubly busy this year. In the fall she conducted a survey of the four grades and the faculty accessing reading interest. Three questions were asked: What book are you reading? What is your favorite book? What book did you last read? As the head of the media committee preparing for the upcoming NCA evaluation, she prepared a survey on library use.

Library assistant Inga Hoifledt left UHS October 7 to take a position as a resource information secretary in the library of the Iowa Health Systems agency. Mrs. Hoifeldt had been at UHS for 11 years. Her replacement was Mrs. Dee Ruthenberg, new audio-visual head, who was formerly a librarian from South Western College in Winfield, Kansas.

Last summer, junior Mike Brown used the computer in the library to develop a program cataloging the library's hardware (film projectors, etc.) It took him about twelve hours. As an independent project first semester, he created another program cataloging software (films and film strips). Mike claimed that by slightly altering the program, the library's complete card catalog could be put into the computer.

7 receive spotlight award

Act IV, UHS's honorary theater society, included 56 members. The requirement for membership was involvement in two school plays through auditing for a major or minor part or working on a crew. Members earned stars by continuing to work on school productions. The top honor, earned after compiling six stars, was the spotlight award — the highest dramatic achievement attainable. Seven students received the spotlight award this year: Tony Adelman, Tony Vierling, Denise Drake, Dale Sherrill, Sara Rawland, Lisa Swaney, and Teri Johnson.

Besides working on two productions and contest plays, the members ushered once a month at the Des Moines Community Playhouse under the supervision of sophomore Kelly Mayo. President Tony Adelman, vice-president Tony Vierling, secretary Denise Drake, and treasurer Lisa Swaney were elected officers of Act IV. Club sponsors were speech and drama coaches Mr. Robert Prigge and Miss Ronda Harwood.

Third place at state

The 18-member JayWalker squad were third place winners in the State Drill Team Contest held December 6. The group was noted "for their grace and ability in modern dance, as well as drill work." The girls performed at boys basketball games and at several school assemblies.

Led by co-captains Margaret Kuble and LeAnn DelPrado, the team debuted at the Homecoming assembly and marched in the Homecoming parade. More modern dance was incorporated into their routines. For their last appearance they performed in leotards and ballet slippers rather than their traditional costumes. The five graduating seniors were honored at the end of this performance.

Try-outs were held February 13 through March 5. This year a point system was initiated for selection. Each applicant earned points by returning a parent permission form, three teacher recommendations, and attending a week-long clinic. At the final try-out, each was judged by seniors, parents, teachers, and members of the community on a routine. They were evaluated on kicks, dance projection, splits, and appearance. Any girl who had been on the squad the previous year was required to try-out again. Twenty girls were chosen — sixteen regulars and four alternates.

New aquatic sport at UHS

With a big splash, a new aquatic sport was added to the UHS roster this spring whose season ran from March 9 to May 8. Twelve girls joined the Synchronized Swim Team and learned water stunts and routines during the after school practices held every day from 4-5:30. For three years, synchronized swimming had been as intermural program but this year the team members had the opportunity to compete in two meets and earn a varsity letter.

On April 25, seven girls attended the Tiger Lily Invitational at Valley. Ribbon winners were Shawna Moore, first place; Kerry Allen, third place; Sharilyn Aronson, fourth place; and Colleen Lindstrom, seventh place. The team hosted a practice meet at Urbandale on May 7 for Valley.

Urbandale was the only school in the conference with a synchronized swim team. Coach Gail McArthur awarded letters to the twelve at the final meeting May 20.

Editorial clout in press.

"The Jayhawker," Urbandale's school newspaper, was published weekly by the Journalim II classes with a staff of four students first semester and nine second semester. Production of the paper took the entire week. Monday was spent writing copy and headlines, Tuesday the staff was found at the Urbandale News office proof reading, and Wednesday the final layout was completed. Thursday the paper was printed as a two-page section of "The Urbandale News" or simply distributed as a single section at the high school.

"Preparing a weekly paper was an advantage," commented the adviser Mrs. Pat Stohlmann. "It gave the staff the experience of meeting deadlines and also better informed the students about what was going on around the school and Urbandale."

"The Jayhawker" demonstrated its editorial clout in several features and editorials about major parking problems and continuing violations in the UHS parking lots. A January edition printed pictures of offending vehicles and license plates were listed. The attention brought to the problem was instrumental in its correction. Movie and music reviews were favorite weekly articles.

UHS Goes Platinum theme

Music was in the mind of Echo staffers as they selected the theme for the 1980-81 yearbook "Urbandale Goes Platinum" was chosen because it reflected the top-of-the-chart award given those records which sold over a million copies, the best music of our time.

To finance the cost of the annual, the class completed a variety of money raising efforts. The ad sales campaign was the most successful ever as over $4,000 in advertisments were sold to local business people. Approximately $600 dollars was earned through hat, balloon, and M&M sales. In February the staff combined their efforts with DECA to sell Valentine carnations for another $400.

To implement the theme, silver foilstamping was used on the cover. Another use of the silver stamping was personalizing each yearbook with the buyer's name. In one busy week, the staff sold 675 books, each costing $11-$13. Senior Kris Dankert received a free yearbook as the most successful book salesman.

Editor Robert Hansen and co-editor Robin Bauer headed the group. Junior Vicky Wheeler was design editor and Greg Shives was copy editor. Album editors included Senior Album-Phyllis Longdo and Cindy Manusos, Junior Album-Jeff Breiten and Kerry Allen, Sophomore Album-Kristi VanVleet and Tammy Stevens, and Freshman Album-Vicky Wheeler and Kelli Miller. Advertising design was masterminded by Jon Janssen. Advertising sales were handled by Dankert and Katina Oddy. Project sales and book sales editors included Bauer, Manusos, and Tami Rice. Rice was index editor.

st steps toward career

Distributive Education students gained knowledge of salesmanship, business, and advertising in first steps toward the business world under the supervision of teacher-coordinator Miss Susan Harvey.

In October DE sold the traditional homecoming mums and in February, along with the yearbook staff, they sold Valentine carnations. These money raisers helped the club attend conferences.

At the Delegate Assembly in the fall, senior Kammie Evans ran for state office. Mary Campbell, Kathy Hillyard, and Julie Barnes went to the Area Leadership Conference for preparation for state competition in food service marketing.

At the State Leadership Conference, Campbell placed first in food service while Tracy Thompson came in second. Hillyard and Sharon Knuth received honorable mention. To compete in national competition, Campbell and Thompson traveled to Los Angeles in June.

Office Education and Trades and Industries, under the supervision of Mr. Wayne Larson, sold buzz books and popcorn tins for attending conferences and holding their annual Employer-employee Appreciation Banquet. OE officers included president Dana Milligan, vice-president Laura MacKinnon, treasurer Steve Covey. T&I officers were president Margaret Snyder, vice-president Jeff Maxwell, and treasurer Jon Sheppard. OE and T&I helped prepare seniors for the world of work.

Wind Ensemble takes I at state band contest

Drums rolled, clarinets squeaked, trumpets blasted . . . and it was 8 a.m. Concert Band practice. The band with members from freshmen to seniors met every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Wind Ensemble met on Tuesday and Thursday at 8 a.m. Members were chosen from the top positions of their sections. This was a change from previous years when all members auditioned for Wind Ensemble. At State Contest the Wind Ensemble received a I rating.

Mrs. Deanna Bowers and Mr. Larry Hintz directed both of the groups. The Wind and Concert bands played at three concerts beginning with the winter concert in January, continuing with the combined chorus and band concert in February, and concluding with the spring concert in May. At the annual Senior Pops Concert held May 12, the seniors were honored for their long dedication to band. A variety of unusual events occurred during the concert. As trumpeter Jeff Shaw played his solo of "Feelings," several students rose and began to dance. Director Bowers was surprised as three students dressed as Hawaiians hulaed while she led "Pacific Island Fantasy."

Fund raising projects included the fall magazine sales, fruitcake sales in November and December, and the annual ice cream social in early February.

Jazz sounds from Jazz Lab

The UHS Jazz Band was a "Band on the Run" as the song by Paul McCartney suggested. The group travelled across Iowa and into Wisconsin giving many people a chance to hear their sound. The group competed at Central College; LaCrosse, Wisconsin; Hoover High School; and the SCIBA Jazz Festival at Ankeny. With many practices inbetween, the band met regularly at 8-10 p.m. on Tuesday and 7-8 a.m. Friday mornings.

Directed by Mr. Larry Hintz, the 21-member band had five members who received outstanding soloist awards from various jazz competitions. They included Marlo Casabar, Steve Dostart, Jay Murphy, Kim Thompson, and Bret Wortman. Jazz Sounds VIII was held Tuesday, April 14 and featured a variety of music including swing, jazz, and rock. Mitch Espe an area jazz guitarist and a jazz trombonist from Minneapolis helped out.

Stage Band numbering 20 members was directed by Mrs. Deanna Bowers. The group met Tuesday from 7-8 a.m. and 6:30-7:30 p.m. The Jazz Lab performed in three contests and three concerts. Pep Band assisted all pep assemblies and 10 basketball games.

Men's, Women's choruses grow

A select group of 40 was chosen from auditions in October for Men's Chorus. This chorus participated in a fall, a spring, and a combined band and chorus concerts. In the state large group contest, they competed in the 2A division (last year they competed in 1A) and received a I rating. Men's Chorus woke early every Monday to practice in the chorus room at 7 a.m.

Women's Chorus was comprised of 35 members who auditioned in October also. They participated in the same three concerts. At the state large group contest, they too received a I rating. The Women's Chorus practiced at 7 a.m. on Thursday mornings. Accompanying the groups were juniors Kaia Larson, Kerry Hall, and senior Kim Thompson.

New vocal groups added

Under the new name "The Sound Connection," four sopranos, six altos, four tenors, six basses, and a back up band all performed as the '80-81 swing choir. "The Sound Connection" performed for the Masons, Kiwanis, American Family Insurance Convention, and a contest in LaCrosse, Wisconsin as well as the concerts at school. The choir was a select group of people who auditioned early in the year. They practiced every Monday evening from 8-10 p.m. and Wednesday morning from 6:30-8 a.m. The band for the group included Krista Kramer on piano, Ron Hahm on the trap sets, Marlo Casabar on bass guitar, and Scott Smith on lead guitar.

Other new vocal groups this year were a women's trio called the O-O-O-O Sisters, a madrigal, a barbershop quartet titled The Racoon River Boys, and a jazz ensemble named the Voices of Jazz.

TAKE IT TO THE LIMI

Leadership, organization

Organization and strong leadership marked the Student Senate. "This year's Homecoming activities were organized better than they had been in a long time," said Principal Ernest Doeringsfeld. "The Student Senate had done a super job of organizing, thinking up ideas, and getting things done. They showed leadership and dedication." Rich Dixon, Student Senate sponsor added, "The chairmen took the responsibility of getting things done.

For Homecoming the Senate and administration worked out an arrangement for a new kind of float. Clubs, organizations, teams, and community people were encouraged to create a float on a truck — a spirit truck. The new floats were a big success.

Senate officers were concerned about improving total school involvement, they planned many special events. To celebrate Halloween, the Senate sponsored a Costume Day. Everyone was asked to come to school in costumes. Social studies instructor Mike Bisbee dressed as a bumble bee. Seniors Brian DuBois was Batman, Scott Griffin was Robin, and Katina Oddy appeared as a PlayBoy bunny.

Headed by chairman Dean Jones, Valentine's week was celebrated as Sweetheart Days. The Senate decorated the lobby to set the mood. Thursday was inside/out day. At the afternoon's assembly, freshmen Beth Smith and Mark Richard won Urbandale's version of the Newlywed Game. Friday was Wear-a-Heart Day and sweethearts for each class were selected: seniors Joni Marvin and Rick Bothwell, juniors Brenda Black and Kent Killian, sophomores Cheryl Keller and Scott Shepler, and freshmen Lorrie Henze and Tim Johnson. Mr. Bisbee edged out Mr. Denny Deardon for "Pie Face of 1981." Senior Brian Fink and junior Barb Witt smashed the pie into Bisbee's face.

The officers included president Elaine Wahrer, vice-president Missy Carver, secretary Denise Drake, and treasurer Brian Fink. Wahrer commented that this year's Student Senate had become a more visible organization and had become more than just a group that planned Homecoming.

RAPTURE

37 inducted into NHS

Nine seniors and twenty-eight juniors joined the twenty-seven member National Honor Society led by president Iva Keller, vice-president Gail Meinert, and secretary Pam Gubuan. The Society recognized outstanding juniors and seniors who excelled in leadership, service, character, and scholarship both at school and within the community. Candidates were required to have a minimum grade point average of 3.3. Final selection was made by a committee of faculty members.

The annual pinning was held Friday, March 13 in second hour classes. Present members surprised the newly selected members with NHS pins. The formal Induction Ceremony occured Sunday, April 5 at 3 p.m. in the library. The president's welcome was given by Iva Keller. In a candle-lighting ceremony, Gail Meinert spoke on scholarship, and Pam Gubuan spoke on character. Gwen Pelley and Elaine Wahrer discussed leadership and service respectively.

The guest speaker was Dr. Ray Pugh, professor of physical education at Drake University. He talked about the power of a positive attitude, believing in yourself, and standing up for something. Dr. Pugh challenged the group to Think, Believe, Dream, and Dare.

Sponsored by Mrs. Lana Sorensen, one of the highlights was building the spirit truck which featured the theme "Magic of Knowledge."

Tennis nets varsity title

Boys and Girls Tennis took on new varsity standing this year. Previously tennis had not been a competitive sport at UHS. The 33-member girls team finished with a dual record of 3-6 and 7th in the CIC. The highlight of the season was finishing 5th at the Lincoln Invitational among 8 strong teams. They opened their season with a win over North Polk, 7-2. "I was especially pleased with the confidence that the team displayed in the first meet," noted coach Denny Dearden.

The 13-member boys team finished with a 4-7 dual record and 6th in the CIC. They picked up their first victory downing Norwalk, 6-3, the second match of the season.

German Club travels afield

German students from various grades and levels of the language formed the German Club. They participated in numerous field trips and fund raising activities. Led by president Liz Hanian, vice-president Dave Gillman, secretary Pam Babcock, treasurer Steve Smith, and reporter Phyllis Longdo, the group began the year with a softball game against Hoover's German Club.

In October they took a field trip to the Amana Colonies and also studied the traditions of the Mennonites. The club was invited to Pella by the Central College students to participate in their culture day in November. Many club members traveled to Germany during spring break with the German teachers. Members of the club helped raise money for the Germany trip by selling Advent calendars.

Pep Club boosters spirit

In its second year, the Pep Club helped build enthusiasm and school spirit. Of approximately 32 members, 21 received letters for their participation. Mrs. Mary Sherer, senior counselor, was the advisor for the group assisted by Mrs. Marsha Spanswick. Mrs. Sherer commented that the members did a very good job promoting school spirit and supporting the extra curricular activities.

Meetings were held Wednesdays after school from 3:30-5:30 in the Commons. Their projects included making posters and locker stickers and painting banners before each game. They also sold spirit pins and contributed to the Homecoming parade by entering their own spirit truck.

The group attended games and occasionally got together for pizza and a movie. The officers included Julie Richard, president; Lori VanSolen, vice-president; Lisa Murano, secretary; and Annette Benjamin, treasurer.

8 Frosh join chess team

Check, and checkmate — the Chess Club, a newer organization at UHS, showed an increased interest in chess at the high school level. The club added eight freshmen to give them a thirteen member team. Leadership was held jointly by seniors Tom Schnurr and Shawn Huston.

On October 25, the club hosted a J-Hawk Invitational Chess Tournament in the high school library for individual and team competition. The home team took second place out of the seven schools that participated. The weekend of December 6-7, members attended the Iowa Scholastic Chess Championship at Grinnel College and tied for second place, missing first place by one point. For the last competition, the group sent a five member team to Grinnell for the Iowa High School Team Championship.

Meetings were held Monday evenings in the library and team members were often seen practicing during open hours in the library. Mrs. Marge Wegner, librarian, sponsored the club.

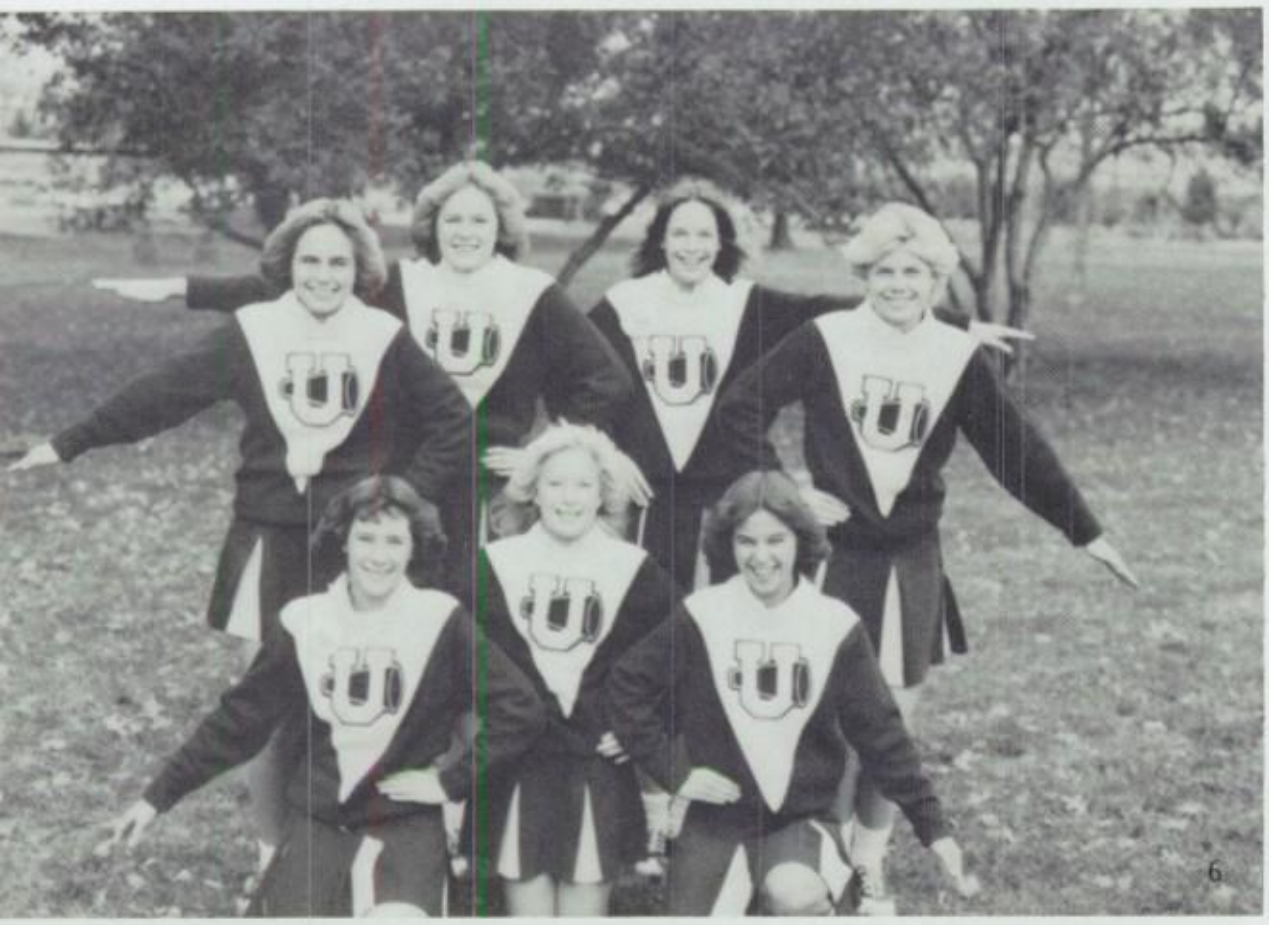
New mascot aids cheers; spirit clinics a success

With the addition of the new mascot, a blue J-Hawk, an idea originating from a community member Mrs. Linda Winger, the fall cheering squads visited all the elementaries and the junior high accompied by the J-Hawk presenting mini assemblies to build enthusiasm and positive participation in athletics. The mascot was present at most games throughout the year and coordinated several signal cheers with the spectators. Adviser Mrs. Sandy Sears said, "The mascot was very well received and did much to fire up the crowd."

I HEAR YOU NOW



The seven fall cheerleading squads conducted junior cheering clinics for girls third through seventh grades two Saturdays during the fall. Over 100 girls were taught chants and cheers, presented with a tee shirt, and invited to cheer at a high school football game.

Two new squads were added this year, a six-member cross-country and girls swimming group, and a four-member boys swimming squad. To outfit the new groups, fund raising projects included the elementary clinics, and selling spirit hats, rooters, balloons, peanuts, and tickets at athletic events.

Homecoming decoration was a special project of the fall squads. They organized arrangements for all football players' lockers and homes to be decorated and each player to receive special cakes and "edibles" during Homecoming week. Various squads shared responsibilities for assemblies during the year.

All cheerleaders were selected in the spring for the upcoming year. Each girl completed a questionnaire, requested several teacher recommendations and took part in try-outs before 20-30 judges. New this year, the girls could letter at the end of each of the two cheering seasons. Senior Laura Tremmel was elected Cheerleader of the Season by both the fall and winter groups.

The fall varsity football squad attended a summer National Cheerleading Camp at Coe College and received both individual and squad awards. They brought back new cheers and mounts. Practice sessions were held during the summer and after school three afternoons per week. At the end of the seasons the fall squads relaxed at a hay ride and the winter squads at a skating party.

ast game hundredth ictory for Frerichs

Ranked fifth in early ratings, the '80 ootball season looked optimistic for the J-lawks. They pounded out a 7-2 season and ent 5-2 in CIC. After breezing by Tech and ndianola, the Jays went up against Ankeny, laying perhaps the best ball they played all ear. In this game, the J-Hawks stunned the lawks' defense on their first drive of the ame with a 55-yard pass play to senior rian Fink. "Our defense forced Ankeny istakes," said coach Frerichs. "It was a ood hitting ball game." Senior Mike Hoy led he defense with 10 tackles and sacked the uarterback twice.

Next, the Jays slid by Boone, 14-13, then ney took on South Tama in the tightest ame of the year. It was Urbandale's omecoming game, and by the end of the ourth quarter, the score remained 0-0. The rojans attempted a field goal in overtime hich was blocked by junior Rudy Myers. J-awk kicker Walt Chapman then booted a eld goal for three, creating a final score of -0.

he first UHS loss came at the hands of the red up S.E. Polk squad. Urbandale's blocking idn't seem to exist and senior Rod Klein ft the game in the third quarter with an jury, after gaining 59 yards in 11 carries.

Following a victory over Grinnell, the Jays ent up against Newton, predicted to be the oughest game of the year. Starting off with he opening touchdown, the team couldn't hut off Newton's big gun, Trey Jackson. he final score, 7-42.

For the last game of the season, uarterback Rick Stevens was moved to alfback, bringing in junior Kent Killian at uarterback. The Jays put it together with his combination and beat Hoover, 20-14 with pectacular catches by Brad Barghols and nk. When Creston upset Winterset, 37-0; opes for a playoff berth were squelched.

The last game of the season was coach erich's 100th victory. Frerichs reminisced, The Hoover game was very important. But he that has to stand out is the state hampionship in '75." The Jays tied with S.E. olk for second place standing in the CIC.

Klein, Stevens, and Fink all were named to he All-CIC first team offense. Fink was the IC's top pass catcher. Klein and Stevens ere neck-and-neck in conference rushing. t quarterback Stevens completed 22 of 48 asses for 278 yards which made him the ggest offensive gun in CIC. The All-CIC efense included J-Hawks Brad Barghols and udy Myers on first team and Randy and roy Richards on second team. Barghols was amed first team All-State.

THE LONG RUN

Girls take five firsts

Five first place finishes highlighted the 1980 girls cross-country season. Eight strong finishers returned from last year's all sophomore and junior team along with two newcomers to make a team of ten. Coach DouBrava commented, "Team balance was the team's primary attribute." Six out of the ten girls competed for places through the year.

The team finished a strong first in three major invitationals, second in two others, and fourth in two more. They placed a close second at CIC behind a surprising Indianola team, and dropped back to a fourth place finish at Districts.

The team's sole entree at the state meet was junior Diane Killeen. She placed 59th out of the 92 best runners in Iowa.

Illness takes toll

Illness cut into the performance of the boys cross-country season. Despite this set back, the team placed second in two major invitationals, third in three others, and fifth in two more. They finished fourth at CIC and fifth at Districts under poor weather conditions.

The varsity squad consisted of four seniors and a sophomore, Chad Thorpe, who finished first man for Urbandale at the CIC meet. The junior varsity squad, made up of three seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores was a very strong team that placed well all season, and backed up the varsity squad. The team also had a freshman squad of two runners.

Records fall

Finishing the season with a 5 and 5 dual meet record, the Girls Swimming Team placed third in CIC. The medley relay team of Susan Lane, Ami Gray, Colleen Lindstrom, and Gail Meinert came in 12th at state and set a new school record. Also at state, Gray was 22nd in the 100 freestyle and 11th in the 100 breast stroke. Meinert was 19th in the 200 freestyle, a new school record, and 10th in the 100 butterfly. Lindstrom was 23rd in the 200 individual medley and 15th in the 100 butterfly. The girls were coached by Dan Paulson, and Gail McArthur coached the divers. Senior swimmers Lindstrom, Jill Gray, Meinert, and Lisa Mulder donated a glass bulletin board to the UHS swim team.

With eight returning veterans but no seniors, the Boys Swimming Team concluded the season with a 5 and 6 dual meet record. Ranking third at the CIC meet February 14, Tom Russell finished second in the individual medley and third in the 100 breast stroke. Frank Rawland was fourth in the 100 freestyle and fifth in the 50 freestyle. Diver Jon Janssen finished fourth, while Todd Fauster was sixth in the 100 butterfly and Scott Patten was sixth in the 100 freestyle.

Steve Willem, Koupal, Fauster, and Janssen formed the medley relay team which finished fourth. The 400 freestyle relay team of Rawland, Patten, Bill Kline, and Russell ranked third.

At districts Rawland came in sixth in the 50 freestyle. Finishing seventh were diver Janssen and the 400 freestyle relay team.

School records were broken by Rawland in the 50 freestyle; Russell in the 100 butterfly and 100 freestyle; and Russell, Patten, Rawland, and Koupal in the 400 freestyle relay.

THE BREAKS

Injuries plague team; 14-8 overall record

Though twelve of the sixteen players on the varsity roster were plagued by injuries, the '80-81 Jayette basketball team handed in a 9-5 record, 14-8 overall, and finished fourth in the CIC. Their 49.9 defensive average led the conference and their 53.0 average overall was the second best in school history. Coach Gary Page commented, "It was disappointing that injuries didn't allow us to compete as well as we would have been capable of, but the year was rewarding because through hard work and determination the girls turned the season around from a 6-6 win-loss record at midseason to 14-8 by the season's end."

Seven of the eight losses during the year came at the hands of teams that finished as rated 4A schools. The second half of the season was 8-2, the only losses coming from 4A state champions, Ankeny.

Teammates voted Kristi VanVleet as the most valuable player. Kris Rypkema was most improved player, Missy Carver most inspirational, and Joni Marvin and Lori Page honorary co-captains.

Carver received a position on the First CIC Team. Second Team honors went to VanVleet, Beth Wobken (7th in CIC in rebounding with a 5.0 avg.) and Page (7th in CIC in scoring with a 21.9 avg.) Shari Bergamo, Tammy Stevens, Marvin, and Kaia Larsen were awarded honorable mention.

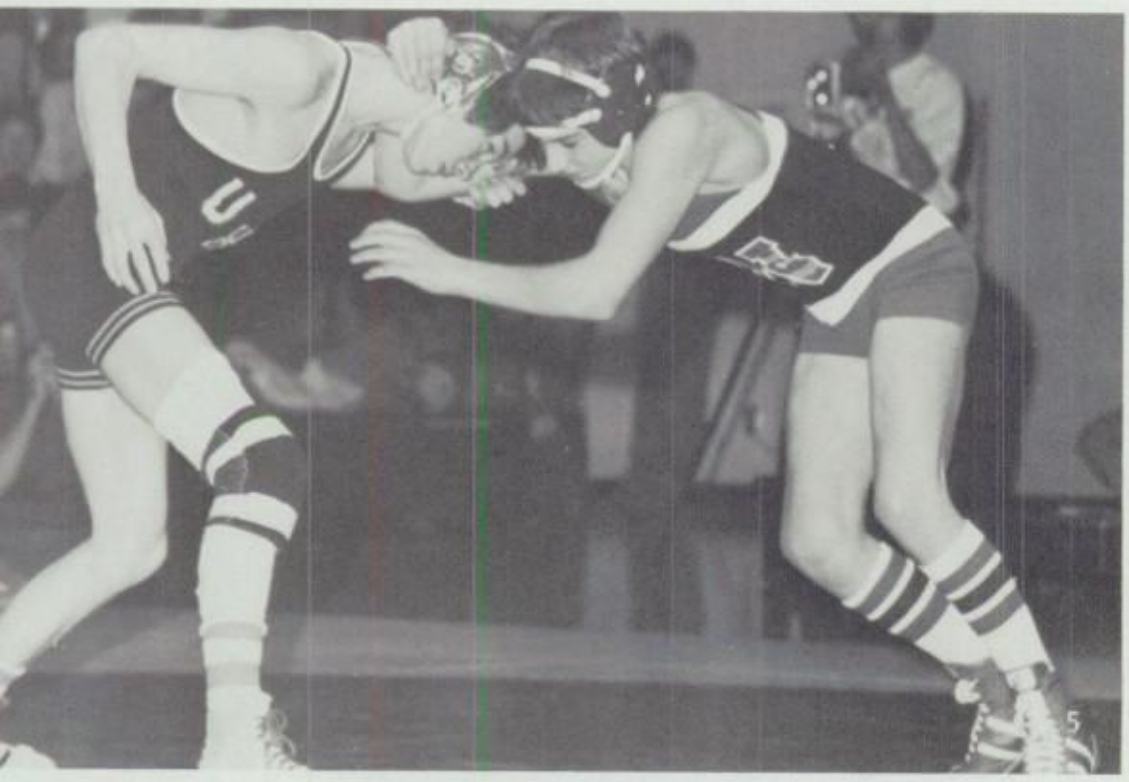
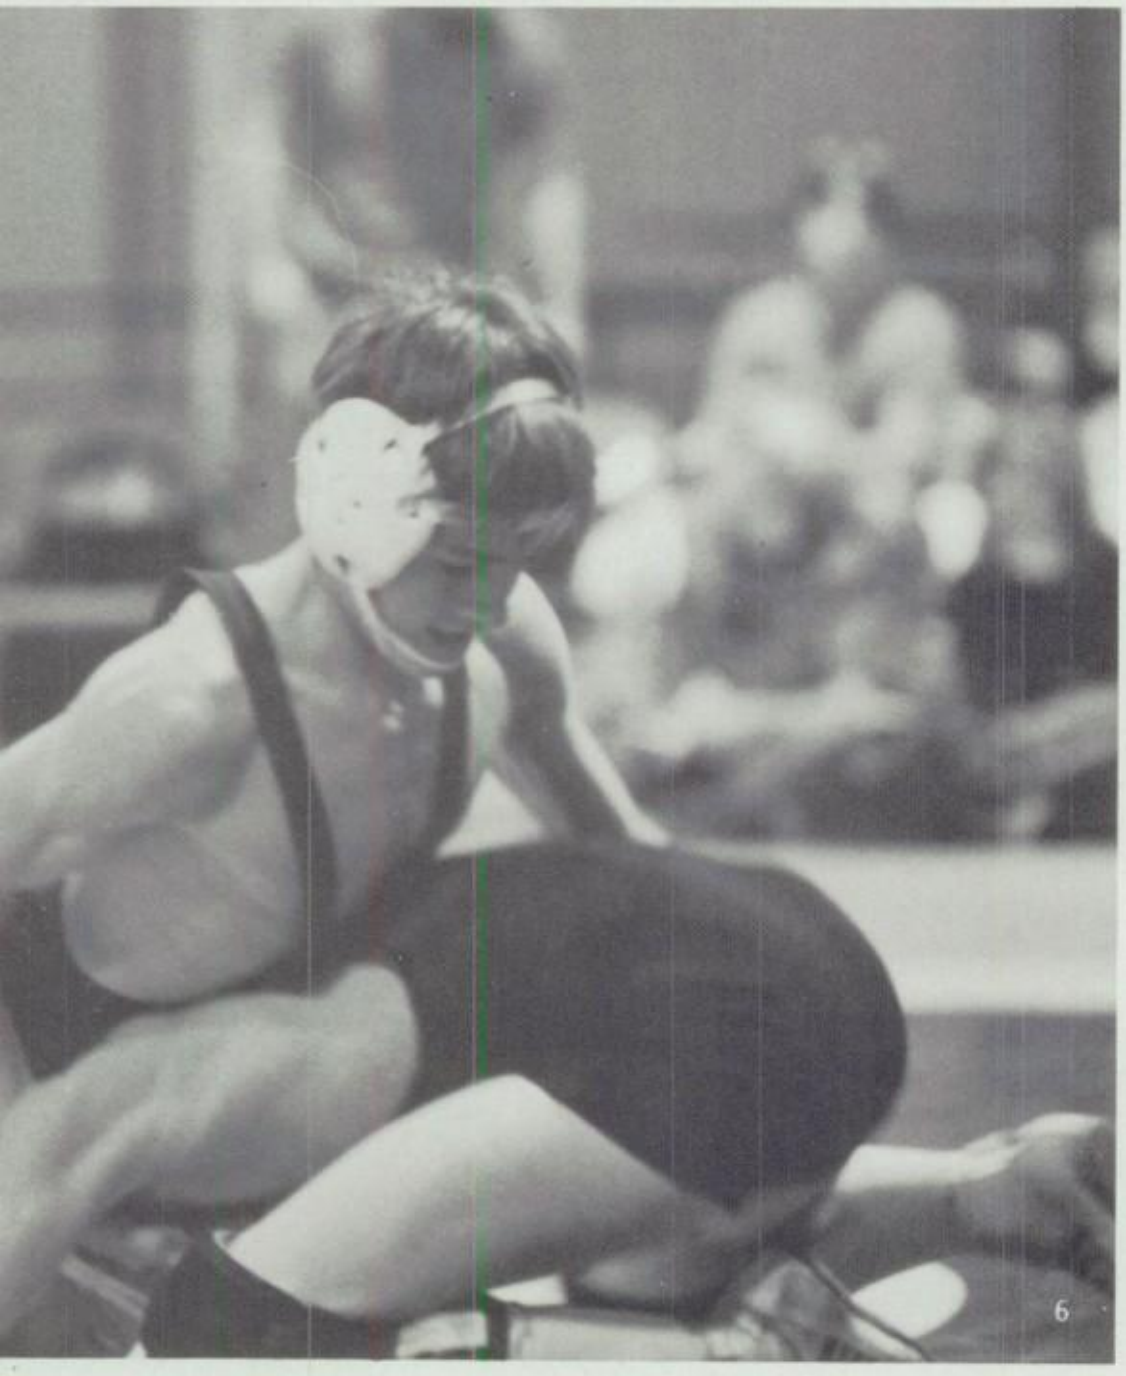
OUGH BOYS





Frosh grapplers tough despite injuries, promotions

With only fourteen members on the Freshman Wrestling Squad, attempting to fill all the weight classes became almost impossible. Five of the young matmen were moved up to the varsity team at times during the year.

At the Valley Takedown Tourney, the Jays advanced five men to the finals and came away with three individual championships and the team championship. When at full strength, the freshmen won several dual meets.

Leading the team was Matt Schroeder with a 6-0 record. Jeff Sullivan and Tim Johnson had 14-1 and 11-1 records respectively, Johnson and Kirk Hesse each scored five falls during the year to lead the team in falls. Sullivan had the most total team points with 62.

TAKE IT ON THE RUN

Slow start, good finish

Despite a slow start, the Girls Track Team ran away with a number of school records and sent three events to the state meet. Coach Denny Brand commented. "This year's team was a true success story. We began very slowly and did a lot of experimenting. As the year continued, we became more and more competitive. At the end of the year, we were able to compete with anyone."

At CIC May 15 in Indianola, the Jayettes captured 3 first places and 4 third places. The first places were the 4x800 relay team of Brenda Black, Iva Keller, Laura Tremmel, and Deb Kolnes in a meet record time of 10:06.61; the shuttle-hurdle relay of Mindy Howe, Julie Richards, Kim Lundberg, and Alison Ehm in another record time of 1:05.11; and Ehm in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 15.12.

Three of the four third places came in the field events. Ehm in the high jump (5'0"), Howe in the long jump (16'¼"), and Kaia Larson in the discus (110'6"). The other third place was the 4x100 relay team of Jill Nicola, Howe, Robin Klein, and Ehm.

The girls scored in 15 out of the 19 events. "A fourth place finish in our conference was great considering that the teams ahead of us finished first, third, and fifth in the state meet," said Brand.

At state Ehm took third in the 100 meter hurdles. The shuttle-hurdle relay placed eighth, and the 4x100 relay finished 10th.

With strong contributions from 13 seniors, the Boy Track Team began slowly but showed steady progress as the season continued. Highlights of the year were dual meet victories over Johnston and Indianola and a second place finish in the Urbandale Invitational. Qualifiers for the Drake Relays early in the season, the sprint relay team of Rod Klein, Rick Jones, Chuck Taylor, and Steve Brush ran the 400.

The Jays finished fifth in the CIC meet, a mere 10 points from second place. The 4x800 meter relay team: John Walden, Steve Dostart, Brian DuBois, and Jim Asbille were champs. Senior standout Klein took first in the 400 and third in the 200. Randy Richards was third in the 400 low hurdles and Eric Lucs was second in the high jump.

At Valley Klein placed third in the district at 400 meters with one of the top 10 times in the state. Coach DouBrava commented, "The steady individual improvement the boys made was remarkable."

1 Senior Rod Klein takes first place in the 400 meters at the Triangular Dual of S.E., Polk, Indianola, and Urbandale.

2 Senior Iva Keller hands off to Deb Kolnes in the first and second leg of the 4x800 at the CIC meet. The team took first with a record time.

3 School record holder Alison Ehm wins the 100 meter hurdles at the dual meet with Newton, she went on to take third in state.

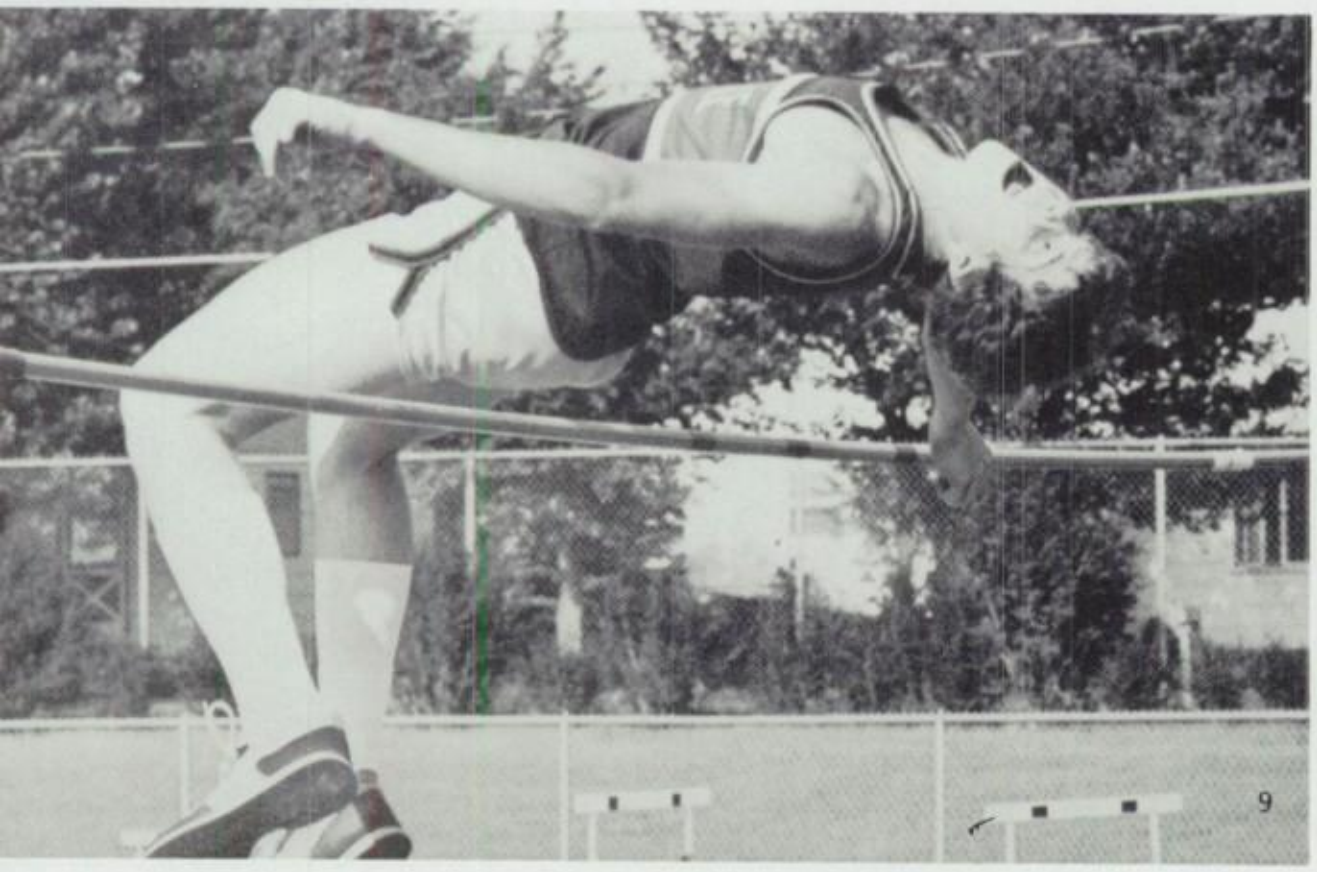
6 Running the second and third leg of the 4x800 at CIC, Steve Dostart hands to Bryan DuBois. They were conference champs.

7 Sophomore Mindy Howe wins the long jump at the Urbandale Invitational with a jump of 16'4".

8 High hurdler Mike Madison comes in fifth in CIC action.

9 At Urbandale in the CIC meet, junior Eric Lucs places second in the high jump.



Girls take sectionals

The Urbandale Girls Golf Team, though small in number, battled cool weather and high winds to complete a winning season. With five returning letter winners, the Jayettes' dual record was 8 and 3. They placed first at the S.E. Polk Invitational, then continued to place second at the Newton and Valley Invitationals. The girls went on to win their sectional tournament by 9 strokes, but failed to qualify for state.

Captain Patti Mitchell, the only returning senior, held down the lowest season average as well as the best competitive rounds of 40 for 9 holes and 86 for 18 holes. Sophomore Nancy Freese was voted Most Inspirational Player and Lexie Shine was the Most Improved Golfer with an 8.7 stroke improvement per 9 holes.

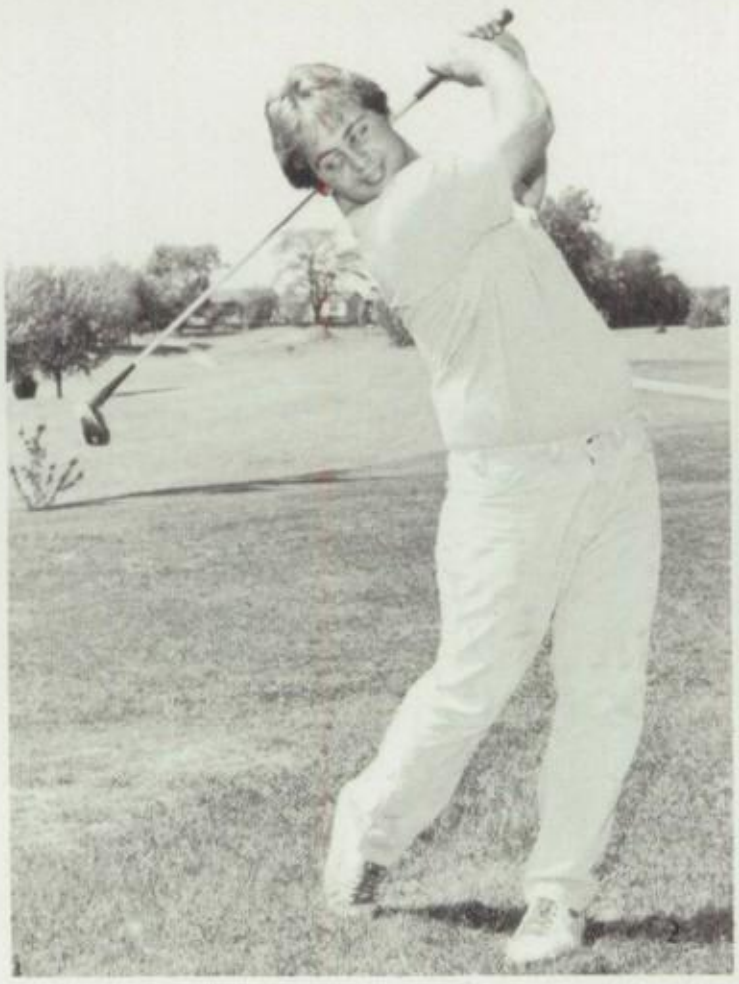
The Jayettes were coached by Mr. Harold Nicola. He felt the girls were competitive, yet cooperative and friendly.

Boys return to state

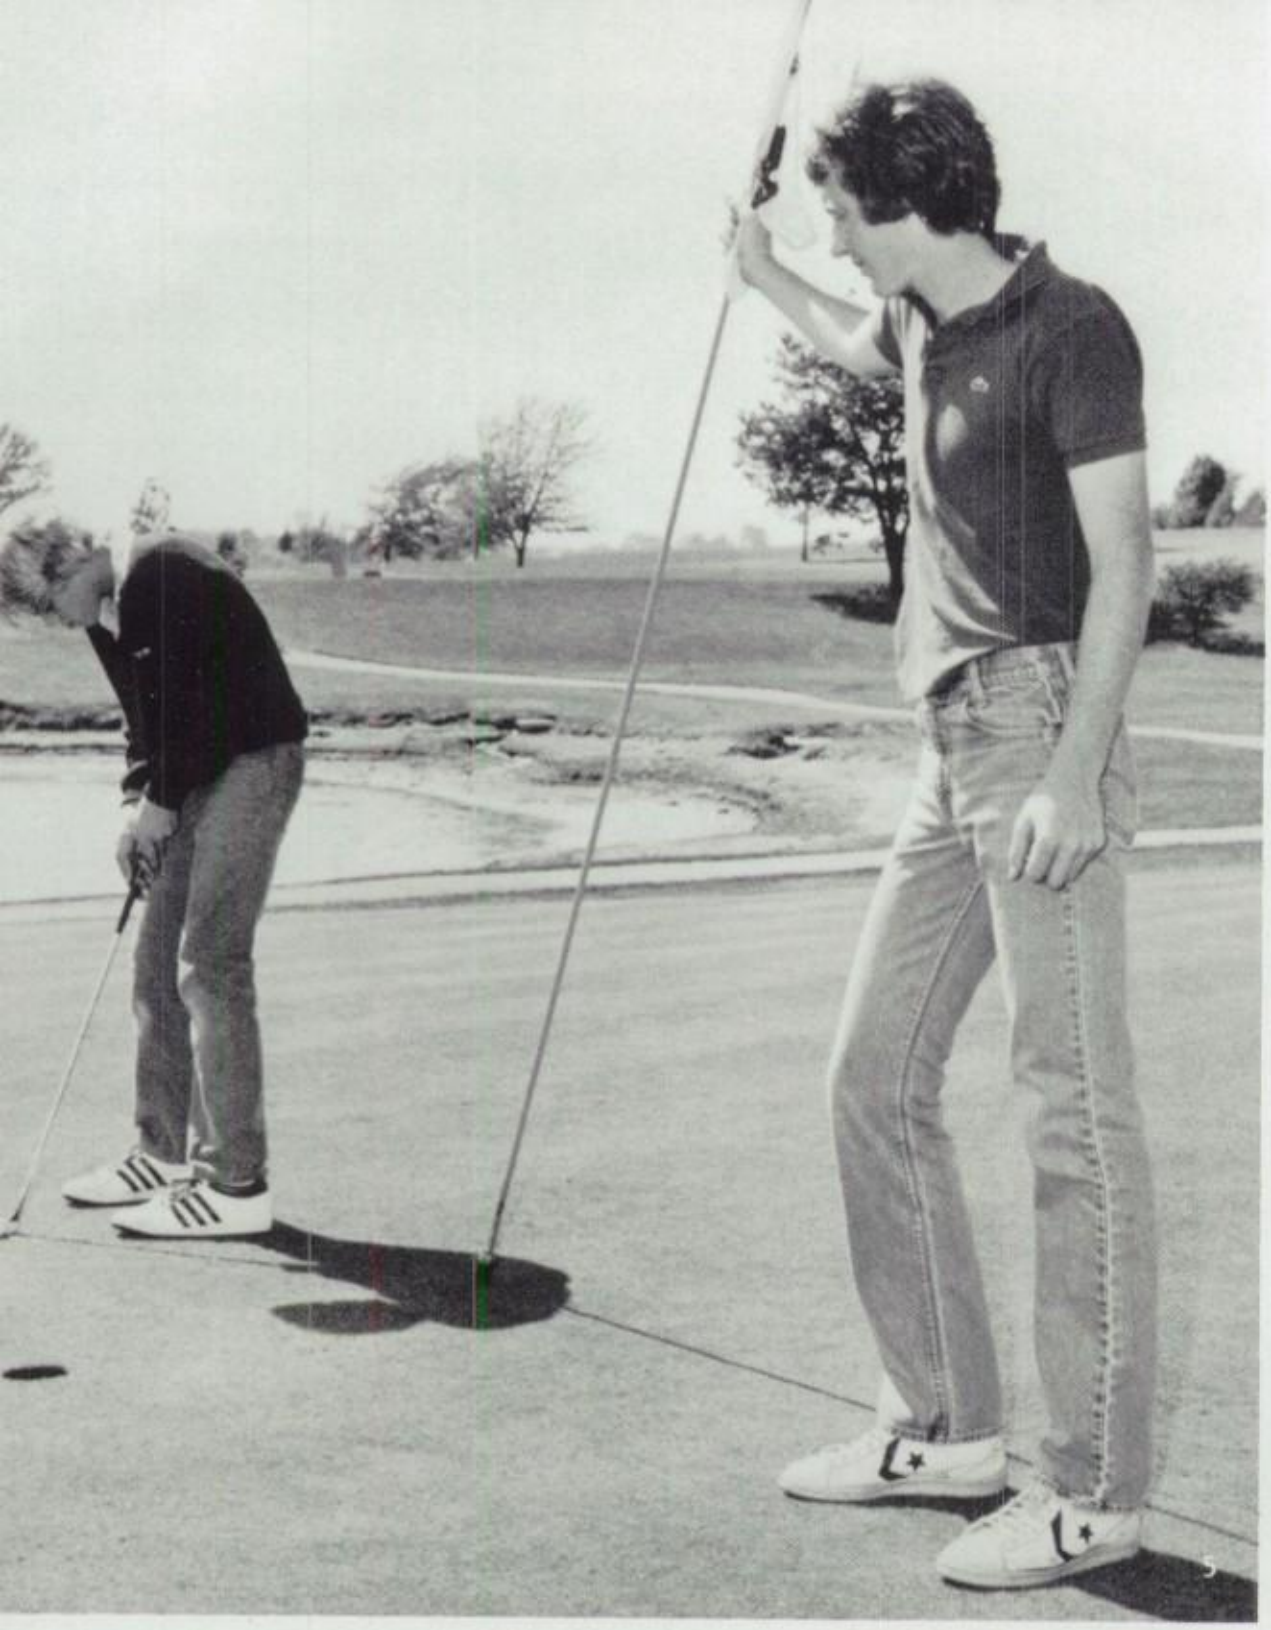
Edging out Dowling, Newton, and Oskaloosa by one stroke to place second in the district, the Boys Golf Team returned to the state tournament for the second consecutive year. Led by seniors and four-year letter winners Jim Brown and Joe Palmer; juniors Steve Hammer, Pete Schroeder, and sophomore Scott Augsberger also qualified for state. Brown and Palmer were team and individual medalists several times through the season.

With the new state regulation of 12 meets the team no longer had a dual record. They won the Ram Invitational and the David Sykes Invitational. They were second at Newton and third in the CIC. Fourth place finishes came the Valley Classic and the J-Hawk Classic.

The JV team had a 4-4 dual record even though they often played varsity competition, plus they won the Urbandale JV Tournament. The freshmen had a 3-3 record, with a second place in the Grinnel Quad.



SULTANS OF SWING



1 Taking first place in the first annual Dave Sykes Memorial Tournament, Mr. Sykes presents the trophy to coach Denny Peppmeier, Pete Schroeder, Jim Drown, Joe Palmer, and Steve Hammer. Hammer won the Tournament.

2 Pete Schroeder concludes a swing after a smashing practice drive.

3 On the sixth tee at Urbandale Country Club, freshman Krista Kramer prepares to drive the ball.

5 Sophomores Scott Augsburger and John Hansen putt out after a tough round ditto. They were letter winners this year.

6 During practice junior Steve Hammer follows through on a freeway shot.

Academic awards to juniors

Academic abilities prevailed in the class of 82. Twenty-eight juniors were welcomed to the National Honor Society and 75, with 3.0 grade point or above, were invited to tend the Honor Banquet.

Of the 266 juniors, 156 (59%) took the CT test. The test was required for ceptance by many colleges. "The purposes the test were to provide colleges with udent enrollment data and to help students esent themselves as persons with special tterns of education, abilities, and needs. ne scores helped students to choose and epare for their own field of study," ported the counselors.

At a cost of $8.50, juniors took the tests Drake, Roosevelt, Dowling, North, Lincoln, d Grandview on various Saturdays during e year. The scores were then sent to three lleges of the students' choice. Materials ere given to the students' counselors tween February 14 and 27.

Three juniors Alan Carter, Linda Davidson, d Mary Stewart graduated a year early. ghteen juniors planned to grduate midterm xt year.

Juniors provide spirit

Wednesday night, October 1, proved to be another exciting part of Homecoming week as the junior and senior powderpuff teams went head-to-head. Although the seniors pulled off a victory by a score of 7-0 with a 70-yard punt return by Julie Richards, the juniors' enthusiasm never ran out.

Coached by Mr. Dixon and Mr. Hermsen, junior powderpuff practices, held after school, were attended by over forty girls. At the powderpuff assembly, the junior team, wearing their favorite jerseys, were assisted by the class of '82's exuberant male cheerleaders dressed in masks and trench coats.

"Powderpuff is a great way to pose competativeness between the girls who don't participate in other sports. The last three years have been a lot of fun," said Laura Toma.

A big part of Homecoming, the junior class contributed SPIRIT to the event as junior student senate members escorted the court during coronation Thursday after junior class president Scott Schneider announced the royalty.

The Kiss of Magic" theme

Spirit truck decoration was held at Kelly sh's home. About fifty juniors helped put gether a "classy" creation using "The Kiss Magic" as the theme. Susan Lane's truck as decked with streamers and a giant ocolate kiss made of tin foil.

"The idea of trucks was created to place the float building and hall decorating years past. Spirit trucks promoted more rticipation and unity throughout school d community, and class rivalry was minated as members of different classes orked on the same truck," reported a yhawker editorial.

Between midnight and 4 a.m., despite cold d wind; the juniors began house ecorating. Armed with long underwear, ps, winter coats, and wool socks; the ndscapers took their toilet paper in hand d set out on their assignments.

After all the signs had been put up and e toilet paper was in the trees, some oups went one step further. "For Sale" gns, donated by various real estate agents, ere placed in the yard. Some players, knowingly, put their homes up for sale vernight.

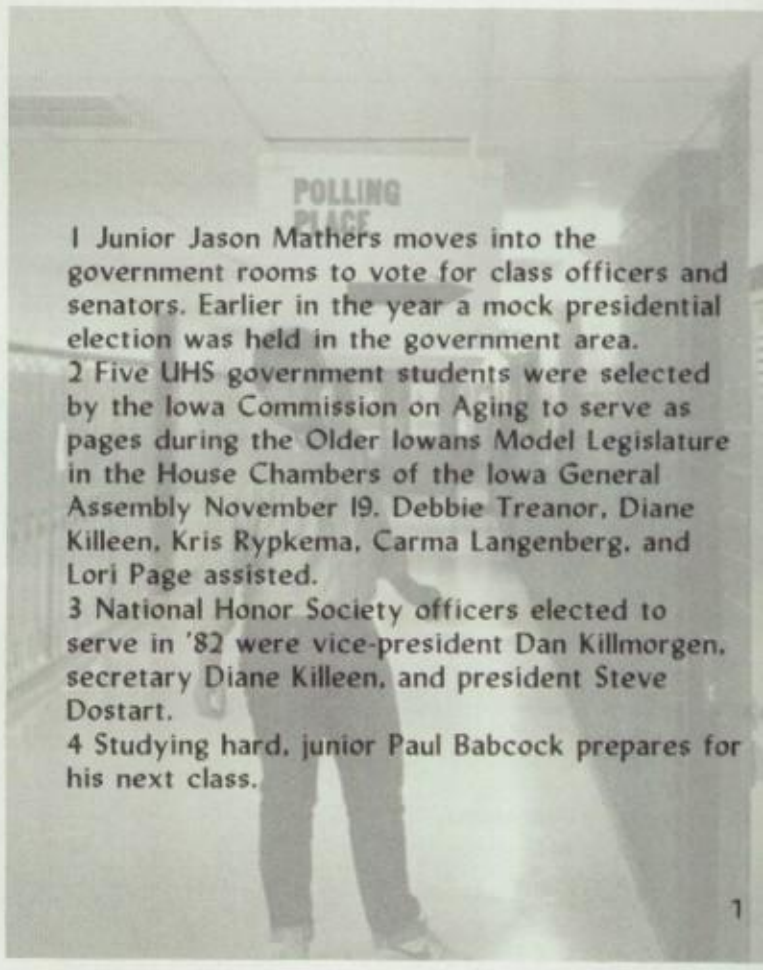
5 juniors to Washington, D.C

Involvement in all forms of government was the key for the junior class. The Studen Senate election of '81 took on a more active look. Combining efforts, the Senate and American Government classes created a new approach to campaigning for office which sparked new enthusiasm. Campaigners decorated and halls with signs, passed out flyers, and gave speeches at an assembly. A total of 44 people ran for office; only three positions were uncontested — a record at UHS in recent years.

Five juniors JoAna Brown, Jane McCoy, Traci McNabb, Brad Sams, and Krissy Wertz were selected to tour the United Nations in New York City and the nation's capital Washington, D.C. March 20-28.



1 Junior Jason Mathers moves into the government rooms to vote for class officers and senators. Earlier in the year a mock presidential election was held in the government area.
2 Five UHS government students were selected by the Iowa Commission on Aging to serve as pages during the Older Iowans Model Legislature in the House Chambers of the Iowa General Assembly November 19. Debbie Treanor, Diane Killeen, Kris Rypkema, Carma Langenberg, and Lori Page assisted.
3 National Honor Society officers elected to serve in '82 were vice-president Dan Killmorgen, secretary Diane Killeen, and president Steve Dostart.
4 Studying hard, junior Paul Babcock prepares for his next class.

3 juniors named All State; Metro title to Urbandale

Taking the Metro League Championship for the second consecutive year, the Urbandale High School Hockey Club was aided by junior Scott Cross who scored three of his five goals in the third period. The 12-7 win over Dowling was not easy. Dowling led 3-0 at the end of the first period and 7-6 at the end of the second period. UHS came out flying in the third period blasting Dowling's goalie with 22 shots while allowing only three shots on their net.

The champs placed third in the State League by beating Mason City, 7-5. In the Iowa High School Hockey League 1981 tournament, March 6-8; the club took a sixth-place finish. Three members of the J-Hawk squad finished number one-two-three in scoring for the state. Juniors Scott Cross, Steve Hammer, and Craig Mann were the owners of the three top spots.

Scott Cross led the league in goals-scored with 33 and second in total points with 56. Steve Hammer led the league in total points with 68 and in assists with 44. Craig Mann finished third in the league in scoring with 53 points; 28 goals, and 25 assists.

The three each received all-state awards: Cross, first-team forward; Hammer, second team forward; and Mann, honorable mention forward.

Sophomores' successful year

"Celebration," by Kool and the Gang was a popular song in the sophomore class as it was with many students in 1981. This year's sophomores had a number of events to celebrate ranging from their victories in the powderpuff and tug-of-war contests during Homecoming week, to the celebration of the end of a tough academic year.

With a total of 238 students in a survey given in American History, the majority of the sophomores agreed that one of the most exciting things about being a sophomore was getting their driver's license. Many sophs took the semester driver's education course during the school year or the special summer session in June and July.

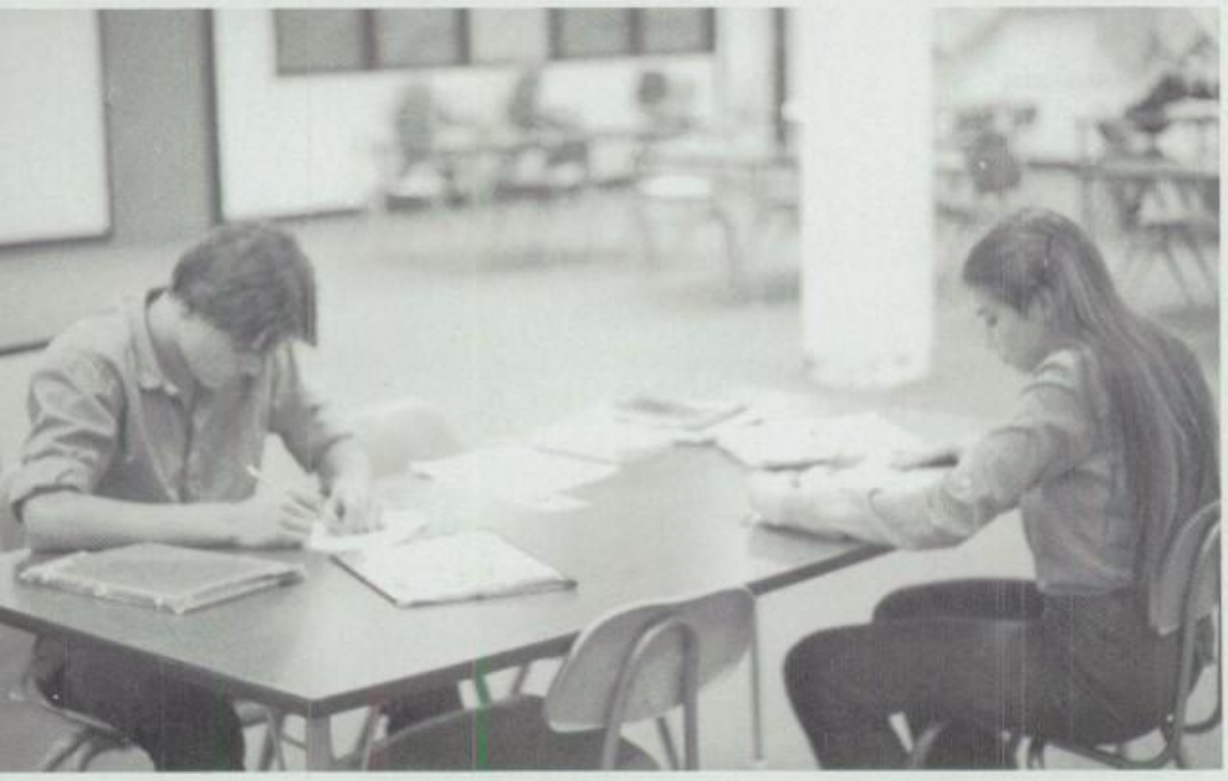
TAKIN' CARE OF BUSINESS



Sophs have money to spare

With a total of over $300 in their pockets, the sophomore class proved to be the richest of the four classes at UHS. This money has been with the sophs since 8th grade and has kept them from having to make money from class projects for the last two years.

The class president was Marietta Cubuan. She was assisted by vice president Ruth Schultz, secretary Lisa Mann, treasurer Lisa DeBok, and senators Ryan Shell, Todd Timesch, and Barb Fortune.

"We really didn't have any specific responsibilities this year, but next year we'll be busy with many homecoming and prom activities," noted president Gubuan.

Powderpuff, tug-of-war championship for sophs

Victorious memories colored the sophomore's participation in this year's events. Homecoming was an especially good time for the "Super Sophs."

Coached by Mr. Nicola and Mrs. Lein, the powderpuff team came out on top with a 21-0 win over the freshmen. Quarterback Sandy Gale with the help of Jenny Hoobin's single touchdown and Mindy Howe's pair of touchdowns, led the sophomore girls to their victory.

After the successful powderpuff game, the sophomores proved to be the strongest of all four classes by winning the tug-of-war contest at the bonfire.

ophs' driver's license ig badge of freedom

One of the most exciting events of e year to a sophomore was getting s or her driver's license. In an Echo rvey taken in early March, 52% of e students polled had already earned eir licenses, while the other 48% ere still awaiting that glorious event. ost students with a license said that ey drove their parents' cars, and a cky few already had a car of their vn.

Watching tv, listening to the radio, ing out with friends, and driving ound seemed to be the spare time tivities of the year. A typical phomore night-on-the-town included king in a sporting event, going out r pizza, then out "crusing" looking r some action.

Largest class at UHS; advisement more structured

The freshmen class was the largest in the high school with 282 members. Officers included president Steve Willem, vice-president Joe Kelly, secretary Brenda Drake, and treasurer Jeff Recher. Jeff Sullivan, Chris Kuble, and John Dunn were the senate representatives.

For the third year, an advisement program with 19 teachers was run to help freshmen adjust to high school. About 15 students met with their advisers each Tuesday in large group, and they met one-on-one on Fridays. The program was more structured. Students were involved in a career survey using the computers here at school. Advisers taught their groups how to program the machines. Later they watched a video tape series dealing with stress, peer pressure, and family relationships. Attendance improved.

What do you like to do in your spare time? was a question asked in a survey of the entire freshmen class. The answers were as varied as the 282 people who make up the class.

Listen to records ... buy more clothes ... play basketball ... read ... practice cheerleading ... work on cars ... watch TV ... crank tunes ... gossip ... waterski ... eat ... paint and draw ... jog ... go out with friends ... party ... play frisbee ... talk on the phone ... sleep ... play hockey ... keep in touch with friends ... put up with upper classmen ... sing ... listen to KGGO ...

Lunch time in the Commons = long line, long wait

Editorial reprinted in part from the JAYHAWKER

January 29, 1981

As fourth hour rolled around it was not unusual to see lots of students race to their lockers, hastily deposit books and folders, and then sprint to the commons to wait, and wait, AND WAIT in line. That was, if you stayed to have the school food. Many students, who had transporation, went home or out to eat. Considering all who didn't eat at school, it would lead one to believe that the lunchroom was empty, NOT SO. If all students would have decided to stay and eat at school at one time who knows what would have happened.

As it was, after getting the food, many students were found walking around aimlessly looking for a table. Upon finding one (which already had five or six people) the real search began . . . to find a chair.

Lunch at UHS was supposed to be the best in the area, according to students from other high schools. Why then was it so hard to get the lunch of your choice? After waiting all that time in line, one of the cooks would come out and erase three of the four choices. And look, there was no more cake or pudding, "That's all right," they explained. "We just substituted fruit cocktail for it."

First semester, the last lunch was the most crowded. Second semester the computer or somebody over compensated because then first lunch had barely enough tables for everyone.

Higher inflation, lower wages proposed by Congress

Editorial reprinted in part from the JAYHAWKER

February 12, 1981

In attempts to help teen-agers in the job market and to halt inflation, President Regan and other politicians are toying with the idea of a two-tier minimum wage. The main purpose of this idea is to lower the teen-age unemployment rate.

It is proposed that the minimum wage be $2.50 an hour for teen-agers and $3.35 for adults. It is believed that employers will hire more teens. But what does this do to adults? Why would an employer pay $3.35 to an adult when $2.50 can be paid to a teen-ager?

A two-tier minimum wage would also affect middle and lower income teens. As costs in college tuition and automobiles continually rise, teen-agers could not afford to work for less money. Jobs for teens are mainly in department stores, grocery stores, gas stations, and restaurants in the suburbs. Teens living in the city would have difficulty traveling to suburbia and employment.

The idea of a two-tier minimum wage would cause only more problems and therefore, should be abandoned.

Completed elevator awaits new name from contest

Article reprinted in part from the JAYHAWKER

February 12, 1981

On February 3, 1981 the long awaited elevator connecting the upper story of the school was completed. Sophomore Jim Wirtz took the maiden voyage. Immediately it was suggested that the elevator be named.

Since the City of Urbandale had a name for their transportation system (a MTA bus dubbed Urbie), the high school decided to name its own transportation system. Teachers and administrators were asked to think up a name for the elevator.

Mr. Cameron suggested "The Penthouse," Mrs. Baumhover said, "Ele" to keep the name feminine.

Mrs. Van Ryswyk said "Oscar" because she felt it was an award for finally accomplishing something important.

Mr. Page offered "Mainstream," and Mr. Brand said "Easy Rider." Mr. Kelsey mentioned "The Lift."

Mrs. Knauer submitted "Urbie-Vator," and Mr. Meyers said "Elegator." Mrs. Leverenz contributed "The Shaft." Lester Smith said "Jimmy's Joyride."

Mrs. Wegner's choice was "U.T. and T." which stands for Urbandale Travel and Transport. Mr. Winters said "Urbandale High," and Jim Coady offered "Jim Evatr."

Sweetheart Days become new tradition by senate

Sweetheart Days brightened Valentine week. Wednesday February 11 was Red, Pink, and White Day. There was plenty of white as below-zero temperatures and six inches of snow caused a rare closing of Urbandale schools.

Freshmen Beth Smith and Mark Richards won the Newlywed Game at Thursday's assembly, beating sophomores Jennifer Hoobin and Mike McCannon, juniors Brenda Black and Kent Killian, seniors Margaret Kuble and Joe Palmer, and faculty members Sherry and Wade Winters.

Friday was Wear A Heart Day and sweethearts for each class were announced. There were freshmen Lorrie Henze and Tim Johnson, sophomores Cheryl Keller and Scott Shepler, juniors Brenda Black and Kent Killian, and seniors Joni Marvin and Rick Bothwell.

Instructor Mr. Mike Bisbee edged out Mr. Dennis Deardon for "Pie Face" of 1981. Senior Brian Fink and junior Barb Will applied the pie.

Friday was also Carnation Day as the DECA and yearbook groups sold various colored carnations.

The festivities were a new tradition established by this year's student senate. Headed by Dean Jones, the senate committee decored the lobby Tuesday to set the mood for Valentine's Week.

Students' feeling revealed in government poll

Article reprinted in part from the JAYHAWKER

November 20, 1980

Along with the mock election on November 3, government students took a public opinion survey. The first question was: Do you feel there is an over-emphasis on sports at UHS? "No" was 60%-40%. Seniors were most likely to say "yes," freshmen were most likely to say "no."

55% believe that more importance is attached to athletic achievements than academic achievements. The faculty, seniors, and juniors said "yes," the freshmen and sophomores "no."

67% feel that band and chorus students should receive full credit. This was defeated by the faculty 55%-45%. The new supervised study system is working according to 59%. 79% are in favor of creating programs for gifted students. 62% think their parents would be in favor of an auditorium, 12% feel their parents would be against it, and 26% are unsure.

65% feel freshmen should be required to take a social science course. Ironically, only the freshmen defeated it.

The final question was asked about the overall quality of education at UHS. 14% felt it was excellent, 60% good, 23% fair, and 3% poor. Freshmen and sophomores were more likely to say they were receiving an excellent education.

May 2nd prom success

"Best of Times," a cut from Styx' "Paradise Theater" album was the theme of the 1981 junior-senior prom held Saturday, May 2 at the Drake Olmsted Center from 8:30-11:30. This year pass-outs were not allowed. Tickets were $15.00 per couple and $8.00 for singles. The tickets were on sale the week of April 20. Clever Gambit was the performing band.

Attendants were chosen by the junior class representatives. They were sophomores Scott Shepler, Cheryl Keller, Jenny Hoobin, Mike McCannon, Bill Duede, and Lisa Mann. Invitations were given out to seniors Monday, April 27.

Senior Kris Dankert commented, "The decorations were classy. The band was excellent and played popular songs." Junior Randy Richards viewed prom as an "unforgettable experience."

The following juniors contributed lots of time and effort: Scott Schneider, Susan Hansen, Brenda Black, Susan Lane, Jodi Gilson, Cindy Hazelton, Valeri Jacobson, Debbie Kolnes, Bob Bagley, Steve Boals, Kent Killian, JoAna Brown, Kelli Rush, and Margaret Jones.

Others who made the prom a success included the chaperones and Mrs. Paula Leverenz, whose artistic ability was greatly appreciated. Mr. Gary Page, who volunteered his time as chief sponsor, claimed that he was "super happy" with the outcome.

Graduation could be hectic! May 14, the last day of school, seniors dressed casually or crazily and everyone rushed around to get yellow slips signed. Back again Friday morning for Baccalaureate and Commencement practice, followed by the Senior Banquet held in the Terrace Room of the Savery Hotel. Sunday, May 17 was Baccalaurate. Rev. Norman Tosten and Rev. Richard Harbart presided. And then — finally — COMMENCEMENT, Tuesday, May 21.

Diplomas were awarded to 251 seniors in ceremonies held on the high school athletic field. Brian Fink, Robert Hansen, and Laura Tremmel received the Better American Citizenship Award presented by the Iowa and Polk County Bar Association. Missy Carver was the recipient of the Sheri Cary Memorial Scholarship. The Cadet Teachers' Scholarship was given to Lori VanSoelen and David Howe received the Writers' Workship Scholarship.

Department awards included: Janet Ganoe, Language Arts; Roger Fouche, Industrial Arts; Kim Thompson, Music; Iva Keller, Science; Mike Schroeder, Math; Dave Disney, Art; Scott Johnson, Social Science; Phil Tosten, Spanish; Gail Meinert, German; Elaine Wahrer, Business Education; Joni Marvin, Homemaking; Mary Campbell, Distributive Education; Dana Milligan, Office Education; Margaret Snyder, Trades and Industry; and Brad Barghols, Physical Education. Laura Tremmel and Brian Fink spoke about their high school careers and their hopes for their futures.

Cesare Caldarelli, Superintendent of Schools, presented the class to Jane Carlstrom, President of the Board of Education, who gave the diplomas.
